

Relative decrease in number of weights for various approximation configurations

